Student Letter

I am Alyza. I am from Cambodia. I studied quite a lot because of all the extra classes after school, but it's all worth it after seeing my grade. When I am free from my studies, I usually read novels on my phone or borrow books from my friends. At first, I only read out of boredom, but now I notice my reading and writing have shown much improvement. During the weekend, my friends and I like to have a phone call to chat about our week or we play online games together. I believe it's important to balance my academic life with my hobbies and social life, so I make sure to allocate time for them. It helps me stay motivated and focused on my goals while also enjoying my youth.

I would love to go overseas to study, as I believe I could gain both new experience and knowledge. Studying abroad would also give me the opportunity to immerse myself in a different culture and broaden my perspectives, which I think is crucial for personal growth and development. By studying overseas, I hope to expand my research ideas in the future. I enjoy drawing, even though I feel that my drawing is not good enough. I hope to learn more about drawing techniques when I am in America. Studying in America would also provide me with exposure to different art styles and techniques, which I could incorporate into my own artwork. This experience would help me grow as an artist and develop my skills further.
