Student Letter

I'm part of a little family with my mama and my granny, these two woman raised me and I am very grateful to them for this, I really wanna leave but I already know how much I'm gonna miss my family, and of course they're gonna miss me too. Despite we argue a lot sometimes I fell like it's normal and like every family has their own issues, but all that matters it's to stay together always despite the rough times, cause that's what families do, they just stick together, always. My family always supported me and all my dreams since I was a kid, they always knew that I wanted to be an actress, and how much I wanted to live in LA and work for my career, but since I am just a student exchange year was probably the best choice, to learn a little bit more about your country and your culture and find out if I really wanna live there or is just what my subconscious created past these years dreaming about it, I think this is gonna be a opportunity for me, to grow as a person, and learn something more about being independent.

I really hope I am gonna meet a lot of new people and make new friends, and based on what I heard that's a experience that last forever, I feel like next year is gonna be the best year of my life, I feel like I will have so much fun and I am very curious to know how I am gonna handle it, I am sure I am gonna feel at home.
